Attorneys for Receiver

INTRODUCTION

Michael E. Moecker, the Court-appointed Receiver files this Sixth Interim Report to inform the Court, the investors, and others interested in this Receivership of activities to date as well as the proposed course of action. The Receiver was appointed on April 1, 2010 by the Order of the Honorable Stanley R. Mills (the “Receivership Order”), in the case styled Office of the Attorney General, Department of Legal Affairs, State of Florida v. Botfly L.L.C., David R. Lewalski, and Jon J. Hammill, in the Circuit Court of the Sixth Judicial Circuit in and for Pasco County, Florida, case no. 51-2010-CA-2912-WS/G. As of the date of filing this Report, the Court has appointed Michael E. Moecker or his designee employed by Michael Moecker & Associates, Inc. as Receiver over the following:

- a) Defendant Botfly L.L.C. (“Botfly”) and all other entities operated, controlled or otherwise associated with Botfly’s activities;
- b) Defendant David R. Lewalski (“Lewalski”) and all other entities operated, controlled or otherwise associated with Lewalski’s activities;
- c) Defendant Jon J. Hammill (“Hammill”) and all other entities operated, controlled or otherwise associated with Hammill’s activities.¹

This Report is intended to provide a synopsis of the Receiver’s actions from April 22, 2011 through July 21, 2011 (the “Reporting Period”) and an overview of the Receiver’s ongoing efforts to discharge his duties to marshal, preserve, protect, maintain, manage, and safeguard the assets of the Receivership Entities. Thus, unless otherwise indicated, the information reported herein reflects the information in the Receiver’s possession as of July 21, 2011.

The Receiver has established an informational website, www.botflyreceivership.com. On

May 5, 2011, the website was updated to include the court-approved proof of claim form and the notice of the deadline for filing claims for distribution from the Receivership. The Receiver will continue to update the Receivership website to provide information regarding the claims process and the litigation commenced by the Receiver as commensurate with his duties and authority.

In addition, the website includes significant court filings in the in the action brought by the Office of the Attorney General and in the federal criminal cases pending in the United States District Court in the Middle District of Florida, Tampa Division, against Lewalski and Hammill; United States of America v. David R. Lewalski, case no. 8:10-CR-501-T-27MAP² and United States of America v. Jon J. Hammill, case no. 8:11-CR-180-T-26EAJ.³

As required by Rule 1.620(b), Fla. R. Civ. P., and the Receivership Order, the Receiver will continue to file quarterly reports to update interested parties on all material developments in the Receivership. This Report, as well as all previous and subsequent reports, will be posted on the Receivership website.

BACKGROUND

Lewalski founded Botfly and served as Botfly's president and principal trader. In 2008, Hammill took over responsibility for managing Botfly's dealings with its investors and promoters, and for providing fictitious account statements, Form 1099's and other documentation relating to the supposed performance of the investments in Botfly. Through Botfly, Lewalski, Hammill, and others operated a Ponzi scheme by soliciting investors to pay money to Botfly with the promise that the funds would be used for currency trading on the foreign exchange (“Forex”) market and promising a monthly return of up to 10%. In fact, very little of the money paid by investors was ever traded in Forex accounts and no investor was ever paid with profits that resulted from Forex trading. As detailed in the Fourth Interim Report, Botfly actually experienced substantial losses as the result of Forex trading. The money paid to Botfly investors as principal redemptions, interest, or commissions was derived solely from money paid by other investors.

² The superseding indictment filed on March 30, 2011, charges Lewalski with sixteen counts of wire fraud, in violation of Title 18 U.S.C. §§ 1343 and 2, and one count of mail fraud in violation of Title 18 U.S.C. §§ 1343 and 2. On July 29, 2011, Lewalski entered a guilty plea pursuant to a plea agreement and remains in custody pending sentencing.

³ On August 11, 2011, Hammill pled guilty to bankruptcy fraud pursuant to a plea agreement and his sentencing is set on October 21, 2011.

On April 1, 2010, the Office of the Attorney General commenced litigation to prevent Lewalski and Hammill from continuing to perpetrate the Ponzi scheme and to preserve assets to be used in the payment of claims of those victimized by the scheme. To prevent Lewalski and Hammill from dissipating the Investor’s funds or transferring them to foreign accounts, the Court entered an injunction freezing the Defendants’ bank accounts and enjoining the Defendants from transferring or disposing of any of their personal property

Also on that same day, the Court appointed Michael E. Moecker to be the Receiver over the Receivership Entities. The Receiver has engaged Moecker & Associates to assist in the performance of his duties and the law firm of Bush Ross, P.A., and its attorneys Jeffrey W. Warren and Karen Cox, to serve as his counsel and provide the legal services necessary to properly perform his duties.⁴

I. The Receiver’s Role and Responsibilities

The Receiver functions as an officer of the Court. The United States Supreme Court has explained that:

⁴ The Court authorized the Receiver’s employment of Bush Ross, P.A. to serve as his general counsel in this case.

[a receiver] . . . is an officer of the court; his appointment is provisional. He is appointed on behalf of all parties, and not of the complainant or of the defendant only. He is appointed for the benefit of all parties who may establish rights in the cause. The money in his hand is in custodial egis for whoever can make out a title to it . . . It is the court itself which has the care of the property in dispute. The receiver is but the creature of the court; he has no power except such as are conferred upon him by the order of his appointment and the course and practice of the court.

Booth v. Clark, 58 U.S. 322, 331 (1854).

The Order Appointing Receiver requires the Receiver to “marshal, preserve, protect, maintain, manage and safeguard the Assets of Defendants in a reasonable, prudent, diligent, and efficient manner.” The Court instructed the Receiver to take possession of assets and granted him the exclusive right to pursue collect and control all monies belonging to or otherwise generated by Botfly, Lewalski or Hammill. The Court empowered the Receiver to file suit against persons or entities to recover property of Botfly, Lewalski or Hammill including fraudulent conveyances and other claims and causes of action of Botfly, Lewalski or Hammill or any of their creditors. The Court further directed the Receiver to establish a claims process for the benefit of the investors who have been defrauded and suffered verifiable losses and other creditors of the Defendants and to examine the validity of claims submitted for payment.

II. Overview of Findings to Date

On April 1, 2010, when the Office of the Attorney General commenced the suit, the bank records of the Botfly accounts examined by an experienced fraud investigator overwhelmingly supported the conclusion that the investment being solicited in Botfly was no more than a Ponzi scheme. In particular, that investor funds were not invested, returns were paid to existing investors with funds deposited from new investors, and that Lewalski and Hammill were misappropriating the investors’ funds. Since that date, substantial additional investigation has been conducted by the Office of the Attorney General, the Receiver, the Florida Department of Law Enforcement, the Florida Office of Financial Regulation, the Office of Statewide Prosecution, the United States Postal Inspection Service, the Department of Justice, and European law enforcement agencies. The information provided to the Receiver that has been developed as a result of his own investigation and the numerous others, has only served to confirm the initial conclusion. Time and time again, investors have been given assurances that tens of millions of dollars are on deposit in foreign accounts and that the investors will be repaid in full. Tellingly, Lewalski and Hammill have never divulged any details regarding the alleged accounts and, to date, no evidence has been developed by or provided to the Receiver that corroborates the claims. In fact, when asked to provide information about their own assets or the assets of Botfly, Lewalski and Hammill have relied on the constitutional protection against self-incrimination afforded by the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution and have refused to answer.

By and large, Botfly investors' money was not used to conduct Forex trading -- for every dollar paid to Botfly by an investor, less than 5 cents was used for Forex trading. To the extent that Lewalski actually engaged in Forex trading for Botfly, he did not achieve the amount of returns he represented to investors. Without a doubt, the small percentage of funds that were actually traded in Forex accounts did not generate any returns for Botfly investors, and, in fact, the Lewalski caused Botfly to suffer substantial trading losses.⁵ Moreover, investors and promoters were never paid with funds drawn from the Botfly Forex accounts. The distributions which Lewalski and Hammill caused Botfly to pay to investors or promoters, either as interest, redemptions of their principal investments, commissions or referral fees were paid from the fruits of the Ponzi scheme. Further, although separate investor accounts were identified in communications with investors, in reality there were no separate investor accounts. The funds paid by investors were treated as a single source of money and were commingled in the Botfly accounts.

III. Actions Taken by the Receiver

Since his appointment, the Receiver has taken a number of steps to fulfill his mandates under the Order Appointing Receiver. The Order Appointing Receiver requires the Receiver to “marshal, preserve, protect, maintain, manage and safeguard the Assets of Defendants in a reasonable, prudent, diligent, and efficient manner.” The Court instructed the Receiver to take possession of assets and granted him the exclusive right to pursue collect and control all monies belonging to or otherwise generated by Botfly, Lewalski or Hammill. The Court empowered the Receiver to file suit against persons or entities to recover property of Botfly, Lewalski or Hammill including fraudulent conveyances and other claims and causes of action of Botfly, Lewalski or Hammill or any of their creditors.

A. Securing the Receivership Entities’ Assets

As stated above, the Court mandated the Receiver to “take possession and control of all of the assets in the possession or under the control of Defendants whether such property is held by Defendants directly, beneficially or otherwise.” (Order Appointing Receiver at 6.) In discharge of this responsibility, the Receiver continued to investigate the activities of the Receivership Entities.

1. Securing Receivership Funds

As of July 21, 2011, approximately $4,553,097.62 had been transferred to the Receivership. The equity balances in accounts in England for Lewalski, Hammill and Botfly at Deutsche Bank and the account in Switzerland for Lewalski at Dukascopy are not reflected in this total. The Receiver has been informed that the equity balances in these foreign accounts is approximately $1.2 million. Throughout the Reporting Period, the Receiver continued to coordinate with professionals and governmental authorities to have the balances transferred to the Receivership for the payment of valid claims. The Receiver has given notice of his claim to the funds and expects that they will be repatriated in due time.

In January 2010, Hammill funded an IRA variable annuity account at John Hancock Life Insurance Company in January 2010 with $49,000.00. On June 30, 2011, the value of the account was $58,782.07.⁶ The Receiver has notified John Hancock of the Receivership's claim to the account and that the funds are subject to the injunction entered by the Court in the instant case on April 1, 2010. The account has not been liquidated and transferred to the Receivership to avoid incurring tax penalties. The account will be transferred once a determination has been made as to the how to minimize any tax liability that would be implicated.

The Receiver also continued to work to obtain possession of funds held in other accounts of the Receivership Entities and as deposits and prepayments for executory contracts. In June, the Receiver reached a settlement of a claim for funds paid by Lewalski to Marquis Jet Partners for chartered jet service. In total, Lewalski transferred $518,052.29 of Botfly funds to Marquis Jet Partners as pre-payment for private jet travel. The Receiver demanded that Marquis return $232,000, the cost of 20.5 hours of prepaid flight time that had not been used by Lewalski prior to the entry of the injunction. During the Reporting Period, the Receiver settled the dispute and recovered $195,000.

⁶ The value of the John Hancock account is not reflected on the Account Summaries although the account is now held in the name of the Receiver.

2. Securing Receivership Non-Cash Assets

As of July 21, 2011, the Receivership's non-cash assets includes the items recovered from Hammill's residence, Gainesville storage facilities, Lewalski's Gainesville residence, and Lewalski's residence at the Mandarin Oriental, New. The Receivership maintains and insures all of these assets as required by the Order Appointing Receiver. The assets held by the Receivership at the end of the Reporting Period, include two Yamaha wave runners, a 2006 26 foot Edgewater power boat with twin Yamaha 250 outboards, a boat trailer, a 2004 Porsche 911 Turbo Cabriolet, a 2006 Lexus GS 300, a Ducati Corse 848 motorcycle, two 2009 Yamaha YZ 250s, furniture, electronic equipment, bicycles, bicycle supplies and equipment, wine, women and men's clothing and footwear, jewelry, and various other household and personal items.

During the Reporting Period the Receiver obtained the Court's authority to liquidate the majority of the personal property recovered from the storage facilities and Lewalski's residences. The Receiver continued in his efforts to obtain approval to sell the watercraft and the 2006 Lexus and the 2004 Porsche. Hammill has filed an opposition to the request. The Receiver expects that the much of the personal property, the watercraft, and the Lexus will be sold during the next Reporting Period resulting in a recovery for the Receivership and a reduction in the costs incurred to store and insure the assets.

B. Receivership Accounting Report

Attached as Exhibit A to this Report is the cash accounting report showing the amount of money on hand at the inception of the Receivership less operating expenses plus revenue through July 21, 2011 and the cash accounting report for the Reporting Period. The cash accounting reports do not reflect non-cash or cash equivalent assets. Thus, the value of all property discussed in this and prior reports, therefore, is not included in the cash accounting reports.

During the Reporting Period, additional deposits totaling $200,369.27 were made to the Receivership account; $195,000 from the settlement of the claim with Marquis Jet Partners; $3,820.52 recovery of funds remaining in Bank of America accounts; and $1,548.75 from interest credited in the money market account.

No payments were made to Moecker & Associates or Bush Ross, P.A. for the payment of the fees incurred in connection with services rendered for the Receivership. At the conclusion of the Reporting Period, the Moecker & Associates and Bush Ross's fees remained outstanding for services rendered since September 30, 2010, and will be paid upon Court approval.

C. Obtaining Information from Third Parties

During the Reporting Period, the Receiver obtained and continued to pursue information from third parties in furtherance of the Receiver's duty to locate and recover assets.

D. Asset Analysis and Recovery

The Receiver has worked to recover Botfly Investor funds paid by Lewalski as deposits or as prepayments for executory contracts. During the Reporting Period, the Receiver settled one such claim against Marquis Jet Partners, LLC for prepaid flight time remaining on jet cards and recovered $195,000. The Receiver will continue to evaluate and pursue other deposit claims and take the necessary action to assert the Receivership's rights to the funds. .

E. Litigation

During the Reporting Period, the Receiver continued to investigate potential claims for recovery of (1) false profits from investors, (2) distributions to fund and/or purchase certain businesses; and (3) other distributions, such as commissions, from other individuals and/or entities made with scheme proceeds. During the next Reporting Period the Receiver intends to commence additional recovery actions as a result of information developed during the investigation.

As to claims for the recovery of false profits, the Receiver had determined that some of the Botfly Investors were paid more than their total investments. These purported profits were false because they were not based on any trading or investment gain, but rather were fruits of a Ponzi scheme that consisted of commingled funds of new and existing investors. The Receiver continues to evaluate information obtained from investors and third parties for the purpose of asserting such claims. The amount of false profits paid from Botfly accounts is substantial and is estimated to exceed $4 million. The Receiver has spent substantial time identifying recipients of these false profits.

In consultation with the Office of the Attorney General, the Receiver has concluded that, in the best interests of Botfly and its investors as a whole, these inequitable distributions should be recovered and distributed in an equitable manner among investors holding legitimate and allowed claims (as to be determined by the claims process). The Receiver will initiate efforts to recover monies received by those investors who made false profits by receiving monies from Botfly in an amount that exceeded his or her investments upon the expiration of the time for filing claims in the Receivership proceedings.⁷

Information available to the Receiver reveals that numerous individuals received commissions as compensation under circumstances that warrant the Receiver's recovery of these amounts. From the documents available to the Receiver, it appears that in excess of $1.4 million was paid as commissions. During the next Reporting Period, the Receiver expects to commence litigation to recover those transfers under the Florida Uniform Fraudulent Transfer Act or, alternatively, to have the funds disgorged pursuant to claims of unjust enrichment.

The Receiver has also determined that four businesses received improper distributions in connection with the Ponzi scheme. These businesses received, either directly or indirectly, transfers totaling approximately $1.8 million. During the next Reporting Period, the Receiver will initiate actions to recover those transfers under the Florida Uniform Fraudulent Transfer Act or, alternatively, to have the funds disgorged pursuant to claims of unjust enrichment.

E. Claims Process

During the Reporting Period, the Receiver commenced a claims process. The claims process is intended primarily for the benefit the Botfly Investors who have been defrauded and suffered legitimate and verifiable losses as a result of the activities of Lewalski, Hammill, and others. At the conclusion of the Reporting Period, 204 claims were submitted for payment. The Receiver and his professionals devoted substantial time to reviewing the claims and the supporting documentation and responding to investor inquiries regarding the claims.

THE NEXT QUARTER

The Receiver continues to receive and analyze documents requested from third parties. In order to complete his understanding of the flow of funds through the Receivership Entities, to identify any additional sources of recovery, and to prepare an accounting, it will be necessary for the Receiver to obtain and review all such documents. The Receiver continues to work diligently on this task and will make additional inquiry arising from the information received.

The Receiver will continue to compile and analyze information regarding payments made and received by individual Investors in connection with his review of the proof of claim forms submitted for payment. In the course of the review of the claim forms, the Receiver will identify those claims that based on the best available information are valid, and those claims which are subject to dispute. For disputed claims or claims that are insufficiently documented, the Receiver will communicate with the claimants in an effort to resolve the issues and reach an agreed amount for the claims.

The Receiver will also continue to investigate issues relating to the potential liability of third parties to the Receivership Entities or Investors. In this regard, based on the information obtained during the Reporting Period in furtherance of his on-going investigation of the Receivership Entities business and affairs, the Receiver anticipates that numerous actions will be commenced during the next Reporting Period.

CONCLUSION

Creditors of and Investors in the Receivership Entities are encouraged to periodically check the informational website (www.botflyreceivership.com) for current information regarding the Receivership. The Receiver encourages individuals or attorneys representing Investors who may have information that may be helpful in securing further assets for the Receivership estate or identifying other potential parties who may have liability to either the Receivership estate or Investors directly to either email kcox@bushross.com or call Karen Cox at (813) 204-6433.
