Attorneys for Receiver

INTRODUCTION

Michael E. Moecker, the Court-appointed Receiver files this Seventh Interim Report to inform the Court, the investors, and others interested in this Receivership of activities to date as well as the proposed course of action. The Receiver was appointed on April 1, 2010 by the Order of the Honorable Stanley R. Mills (the “Receivership Order”), in the case styled Office of the Attorney General, Department of Legal Affairs, State of Florida v. Botfly L.L.C., David R. Lewalski, and Jon J. Hammill, in the Circuit Court of the Sixth Judicial Circuit in and for Pasco County, Florida, case no. 51-2010-CA-2912-WS/G. As of the date of filing this Report, the Court has appointed Michael E. Moecker or his designee employed by Michael Moecker & Associates, Inc. as Receiver over the following:

- a) Defendant Botfly L.L.C. (“Botfly”) and all other entities operated, controlled or otherwise associated with Botfly’s activities;
- b) Defendant David R. Lewalski (“Lewalski”) and all other entities operated, controlled or otherwise associated with Lewalski’s activities;
- c) Defendant Jon J. Hammill (“Hammill”) and all other entities operated, controlled or otherwise associated with Hammill’s activities.¹

This Report is intended to provide a synopsis of the Receiver’s actions from July 22, 2011 through October 21, 2011 (the “Reporting Period”) and an overview of the Receiver’s ongoing efforts to discharge his duties to marshal, preserve, protect, maintain, manage, and safeguard the assets of the Receivership Entities. Thus, unless otherwise indicated, the information reported herein reflects the information in the Receiver’s possession as of October 21, 2011.

The Receiver has established an informational website, www.botflyreceivership.com. On

May 5, 2011, the website was updated to include the court-approved proof of claim form and the notice of the deadline for filing claims for distribution from the Receivership. The Receiver will continue to update the Receivership website to provide information regarding the claims process and the litigation commenced by the Receiver as commensurate with his duties and authority.

In addition, the website includes significant court filings in the in the action brought by the Office of the Attorney General and in the federal criminal cases brought in the United States District Court in the Middle District of Florida, Tampa Division, against Lewalski and Hammill; United States of America v. David R. Lewalski, case no. 8:10-CR-501-T-27MAP² and United States of America v. Jon J. Hammill, case no. 8:11-CR-180-T-26EAJ.³

As required by Rule 1.620(b), Fla. R. Civ. P., and the Receivership Order, the Receiver will continue to file quarterly reports to update interested parties on all material developments in the Receivership. This Report, as well as all previous and subsequent reports, will be posted on the Receivership website.

BACKGROUND

Lewalski founded Botfly and served as Botfly's president and principal trader. In 2008, Hammill took over responsibility for managing Botfly's dealings with its investors and promoters, and for providing fictitious account statements, Form 1099's and other documentation relating to the supposed performance of the investments in Botfly. Through

² On November 18, 2011 a federal district court judge sentenced Lewalski to serve twenty years' imprisonment to be followed by three years' supervised release and has been ordered to pay restitution in the amount of $18,969,021.78. Despite having entered a guilty plea and admitting that he was the mastermind of the Botfly Ponzi scheme, Lewalski has filed a notice of appeal from his conviction.

³ On October 21, 2011, Hammill was sentenced to serve thirty months' imprisonment to be followed by three years' supervised release for bankruptcy fraud. Hammill has filed a notice of appeal from his conviction.

Botfly, Lewalski, Hammill, and others operated a Ponzi scheme by soliciting investors to pay money to Botfly with the promise that the funds would be used for currency trading on the foreign exchange (“Forex”) market and promising a monthly return of up to 10%. In fact, very little of the money paid by investors was ever traded in Forex accounts and no investor was ever paid with profits that resulted from Forex trading. As detailed in the Fourth Interim Report, Botfly actually experienced substantial losses as the result of Forex trading. The money paid to Botfly investors as principal redemptions, interest, or commissions was derived solely from money paid by other investors.

On April 1, 2010, the Office of the Attorney General commenced litigation to prevent Lewalski and Hammill from continuing to perpetrate the Ponzi scheme and to preserve assets to be used in the payment of claims of those victimized by the scheme. To prevent Lewalski and Hammill from dissipating the Investor’s funds or transferring them to foreign accounts, the Court entered an injunction freezing the Defendants’ bank accounts and enjoining the Defendants from transferring or disposing of any of their personal property

Also on that same day, the Court appointed Michael E. Moecker to be the Receiver over the Receivership Entities. The Receiver has engaged Moecker & Associates to assist in the performance of his duties and the law firm of Bush Ross, P.A., and its attorneys Jeffrey W. Warren and Karen Cox, to serve as his counsel and provide the legal services necessary to properly perform his duties.⁴

I. The Receiver’s Role and Responsibilities

The Receiver functions as an officer of the Court. The United States Supreme Court has explained that:

⁴ The Court authorized the Receiver’s employment of Bush Ross, P.A. to serve as his general

[a receiver] . . . is an officer of the court; his appointment is provisional. He is appointed on behalf of all parties, and not of the complainant or of the defendant only. He is appointed for the benefit of all parties who may establish rights in the cause. The money in his hand is in custodial egis for whoever can make out a title to it . . . It is the court itself which has the care of the property in dispute. The receiver is but the creature of the court; he has no power except such as are conferred upon him by the order of his appointment and the course and practice of the court.

Booth v. Clark, 58 U.S. 322, 331 (1854).

The Order Appointing Receiver requires the Receiver to “marshal, preserve, protect, maintain, manage and safeguard the Assets of Defendants in a reasonable, prudent, diligent, and efficient manner.” The Court instructed the Receiver to take possession of assets and granted him the exclusive right to pursue, collect, and control all monies belonging to or otherwise generated by Botfly, Lewalski, or Hammill. The Court empowered the Receiver to file suit against persons or entities to recover property of Botfly, Lewalski, or Hammill including fraudulent conveyances and other claims and causes of action of Botfly, Lewalski, or Hammill or any of their creditors. The Court further directed the Receiver to establish a claims process for the benefit of the investors who have been defrauded and suffered verifiable losses and other creditors of the Defendants and to examine the validity of claims submitted for payment.

II. Overview of Findings to Date

On April 1, 2010, when the Office of the Attorney General commenced the suit, the bank records of the Botfly accounts examined by an experienced fraud investigator overwhelmingly supported the conclusion that the investment being solicited in Botfly was no more than a Ponzi scheme. In particular, that investor funds were not invested, returns were paid to existing investors with funds deposited from new investors, and that Lewalski and Hammill were counsel in this case.

misappropriating the investors' funds. Since that date, substantial additional investigation has been conducted by the Office of the Attorney General, the Receiver, the Florida Department of Law Enforcement, the Florida Office of Financial Regulation, the Office of Statewide Prosecution, the United States Postal Inspection Service, the Department of Justice, and European law enforcement agencies. The information provided to the Receiver that has been developed as a result of his own investigation and the numerous others, has only served to confirm the initial conclusion. Ultimately, after his arrest and detention on fraud charges arising from the Botfly scheme, Lewalski admitted that instead of trading in the foreign currency market, the bulk of investor funds were used to make payments to other investors in order to perpetuate the scheme and make it appear as if Botfly was generating the promised return and for his own personal expenditures – in other words, that Botfly was a Ponzi scheme.

III. Actions Taken by the Receiver

Since his appointment, the Receiver has taken a number of steps to fulfill his mandates under the Order Appointing Receiver. The Order Appointing Receiver requires the Receiver to “marshal, preserve, protect, maintain, manage and safeguard the Assets of Defendants in a reasonable, prudent, diligent, and efficient manner.” The Court instructed the Receiver to take possession of assets and granted him the exclusive right to pursue collect and control all monies belonging to or otherwise generated by Botfly, Lewalski, or Hammill. The Court empowered the Receiver to file suit against persons or entities to recover property of Botfly, Lewalski, or Hammill including fraudulent conveyances and other claims and causes of action of Botfly, Lewalski, or Hammill or any of their creditors.

A. Securing the Receivership Entities' Assets

As stated above, the Court mandated the Receiver to “take possession and control of all of the assets in the possession or under the control of Defendants whether such property is held by Defendants directly, beneficially or otherwise.” (Order Appointing Receiver at 6.) In discharge of this responsibility, the Receiver continued to investigate the activities of the Receivership Entities.

1. Securing Receivership Funds

As of October 21, 2011, approximately $5,338,326.30 had been transferred to the Receivership’s account.⁵ On September 20, 2011, the Receiver recovered $719,685.48 from the account in Switzerland for Lewalski at Dukascopy in Switzerland. Throughout the Reporting Period, the Receiver continued to coordinate with professionals and governmental authorities to have these balances transferred to the Receivership for the payment of valid claims. The Receiver has given notice of his claim to the funds and expects that they will be recovered in due time. The Receiver work continues as to funds held as deposits and prepayments for executory contracts.

2. Securing Receivership Non-Cash Assets

As of October 21, 2011, the Receivership’s non-cash assets includes certain items recovered from Gainesville storage facilities, Lewalski’s Gainesville residence, and Lewalski’s residence at the Mandarin Oriental. The Receivership maintains and insures all of these assets as required by the Order Appointing Receiver. In August, the Receiver recovered $34,373.01 from the auction of items that were recovered from Lewalski’s residences and storage units. In September, the Receiver recovered $29,295 from the auction of two jet skis and a trailer, a 2006 Lexus GS 300, and a Ducati Corse 848 motorcycle. The assets held by the Receivership at the end of the Reporting Period, include a 2006 26 foot Edgewater power boat with twin Yamaha 250 outboards, a 2004 Porsche 911 Turbo Cabriolet, bicycles, women and men's clothing and footwear, and jewelry.

The Receiver expects that the much of the personal property, the Porsche, and the powerboat will be sold during the next Reporting Period resulting in a recovery for the Receivership and a reduction in the costs incurred to store and insure the assets.

B. Receivership Accounting Report

Attached as Exhibit A to this Report is the cash accounting report showing the amount of money on hand at the inception of the Receivership less operating expenses plus revenue through October 21, 2011 and the cash accounting report for the Reporting Period. The cash accounting reports do not reflect non-cash or cash equivalent assets. Thus, the value of all property discussed in this and prior reports, therefore, is not included in the cash accounting reports.

During the Reporting Period, additional deposits totaling $785,228.68 were made to the Receivership account; $719,685.48 from Lewalski's Dukascopy account; $63,668.01 recovery from the proceeds of auctions; and $1,107.91 from interest credited in the money market account.

Moecker and Associates was paid $113,142.63 for the payment of fees and expenses for the period of October 1, 2010 through March 31, 2011. No payments were made Bush Ross, P.A. for the payment of the fees incurred in connection with services rendered for the Receivership. At the conclusion of the Reporting Period, Bush Ross's fees and costs remained outstanding for services rendered since September 30, 2010, and Moecker and Associates fees and costs remained outstanding for services rendered since March 31, 2011. The outstanding fees will be paid upon Court approval.

C. Obtaining Information from Third Parties

During the Reporting Period, the Receiver obtained and continued to pursue information from third parties in furtherance of the Receiver's duty to locate and recover assets.

D. Asset Analysis and Recovery

The Receiver has worked to recover Botfly Investor funds paid by Lewalski as deposits or as prepayments for executory contracts, and held in foreign accounts. To this end, the Receiver has questioned Lewalski and deposed Hammill regarding the sources and uses of the funds paid to Botfly. The Receiver will continue to evaluate and pursue other deposit claims and take the necessary action to assert the Receivership's rights to the funds.

E. Litigation

During the Reporting Period, the Receiver continued to evaluate information obtained from investors and third parties in connection with the preparation of claims for recovery of (1) false profits paid to investors, (2) distributions to fund and/or purchase certain businesses; and (3) other distributions, such as commissions, from other individuals and/or entities made with scheme proceeds.

During the next Reporting Period the Receiver will advance claims for the recovery of false profits paid to those Botfly Investors who were paid more than their total investments. These purported profits were false because they were not based on any trading or investment gain, but rather were fruits of a Ponzi scheme that consisted of commingled funds of new and existing investors. The Receiver continues to evaluate information obtained from investors and third parties for the purpose of asserting such claims. The amount of false profits paid from Botfly accounts is substantial and is estimated to exceed $4 million. The Receiver has spent substantial time identifying recipients of these false profits.

In consultation with the Office of the Attorney General, the Receiver has concluded that, in the best interests of Botfly and its investors as a whole, these inequitable distributions should be recovered and distributed in an equitable manner among investors holding legitimate and allowed claims (as to be determined by the claims process). The Receiver will initiate efforts to recover monies received by those investors who made false profits by receiving monies from Botfly in an amount that exceeded his or her investments upon the expiration of the time for filing claims in the Receivership proceedings.⁶

Information available to the Receiver reveals that numerous individuals received commissions as compensation under circumstances that warrant the Receiver's recovery of these amounts. From the documents available to the Receiver, it appears that in excess of $1.4 million was paid as commissions. During the next Reporting Period, the Receiver expects to commence litigation to recover those transfers under the Florida Uniform Fraudulent Transfer Act or, alternatively, to have the funds disgorged pursuant to claims of unjust enrichment.

The Receiver has also determined that four businesses received improper distributions in connection with the Ponzi scheme. These businesses received, either directly or indirectly, transfers totaling approximately $1.8 million. During the next Reporting Period, the Receiver will initiate actions to recover those transfers under the Florida Uniform Fraudulent Transfer Act or, alternatively, to have the funds disgorged pursuant to claims of unjust enrichment.

E. Claims Process

⁶ Individuals who received distributions of purported trading profits or purported principal redemptions in connection with their investments under circumstances that are unjust and not in good faith, may be subject to claims for the recovery of all transfers received from Botfly.

During the Reporting Period, much of the Receiver's efforts were concentrated on the administration of the claims submitted for payment from the Receivership funds.

On October 4, 2010, the Receiver filed his Motion to (1) Approve Procedure to Administer Claims and Proof of Claim Form, (2) Establish Deadline for Filing Proofs of Claim, and (3) Permit Notice by Mail and Publication. On April 28, 2011, the Court granted the Motion and approved the Claims Administration Procedure as set forth in the Motion in all respects. The Court established a Claim Bar Date of the later of the 120 days from the entry of the Order or 90 days from mailing of the Proof of Claim Form to known possible Claimants. Pursuant to the Court's Order, any person or entity who filed to submit a proof of claim to the Receiver so that it is actually received by the Receiver on or before the Claim Bar Date is barred and precluded from asserting any claim against the Receivership or Botfly, LLC.

The Court's Order further provided that sufficient and reasonable notice was given by the Receiver if made by (a) first class U.S. Mail to the last known address of all known potential claimants, (b) by publication on one day in the global edition of The Wall Street Journal and on one day in The St. Petersburg Times, and (c) on the Receiver's website at www.botflyreceivership.com.

In compliance with the Court's Order, the Receiver mailed 802 packages to individuals and entities identified as possible investors in Botfly, thereby establishing August 26, 2011, as the bar date for filing claims in the Botfly receivership proceedings. Each package included a cover summarizing the approved Claims Administration Procedure, the Notice of Deadline Requiring Filing of Proofs of Claim and a Proof of Claim Form. The Receiver also published the Notice in the global edition of The Wall Street Journal and in The St. Petersburg Times, and provided the Notice and a Proof of Claim form on his website.

As of October 21, 2011, the Receiver has received 408 Proof of Claim Forms. Fourteen of the 408 claims were received after the expiration of the claim bar date. As the claims were received, the Receiver and his counsel began to review the claims to determine the validity of the claim and the amount that should be allowed for payment in an effort to expeditiously resolve the process of administering the claims. The Receiver has completed an initial review of the claims and has notified claimants of deficiencies in their respective claims. Through this process, some claims have been withdrawn, some claimants have submitted amended claims, and some claimants have agreed to corrections to their claims in accordance with the Receiver's calculation of the net loss sustained by the claimant. The Receiver is continuing to review all submitted claims and amended claims and will make determinations regarding these claims once the review is complete.

THE NEXT QUARTER

The Receiver continues to receive and analyze documents requested from third parties. In order to complete his understanding of the flow of funds through the Receivership Entities, to identify any additional sources of recovery, and to prepare an accounting, it will be necessary for the Receiver to obtain and review all such documents. The Receiver continues to work diligently on this task and will make additional inquiry arising from the information received.

The Receiver will continue to compile and analyze information regarding payments made and received by individual Investors in connection with his review of the proof of claim forms submitted for payment. In the course of the review of the claim forms, the Receiver will identify those claims that based on the best available information are valid, and those claims which are subject to dispute. For disputed claims or claims that are insufficiently documented, the Receiver will communicate with the claimants in an effort to resolve the issues and reach an agreed amount for the claims.

The Receiver will also continue to investigate issues relating to the potential liability of third parties to the Receivership Entities or investors. In this regard, based on the information obtained during the Reporting Period in furtherance of his on-going investigation of the Receivership Entities business and affairs, the Receiver will begin the process for recovery of false profits by sending demands to those investors identified as having been paid amounts in excess of the amounts invested. The Receiver will endeavor to resolve such claims without the necessity of litigation, however, it is anticipated that numerous actions for the recovery of false profits and for the recovery of other amounts will be commenced during the next Reporting Period.

CONCLUSION

Creditors of and Investors in the Receivership Entities are encouraged to periodically check the informational website (www.botflyreceivership.com) for current information regarding the Receivership. The Receiver encourages individuals or attorneys representing Investors who may have information that may be helpful in securing further assets for the Receivership estate or identifying other potential parties who may have liability to either the Receivership estate or Investors directly to either email kcox@bushross.com or call Karen Cox at (813) 204-6433.
